In the city of Moonlight, there lives a wealthy girl named Luna. Because she is the daughter of a very rich family, she is always surrounded by huge mansions and palaces, and her days are mainly occupied with luxurious things such as expensive clothes and expensive shoes. Luna has a sister named Suzune. Luna and Suzune are very close, and they like the same things. The games they played together are the same as when they were children. Their favorite game is "Whose house is bigger?" when they play in the country. While Luna wants to put the biggest house in the whole land, Suzune wants to put up a house to show off her skills. Suzune loves to play the piano, and Luna is secretly jealous of Suzune's talents. Suze loves the outdoors, so when she cannot play the piano, she spends her time digging holes in the ground with her hands. This is the favorite time of the two sisters. One day, Luna notices a hole in front of her own mansion and, knowing that Suzune liked it, she wants to be the first to ask Suzune if she would like to play the piano.
